ORIENTAL RUGS

at lower prices than they are now to be bought for in the wholesale market

Hard to strike three more convenient stores. New York is always on the move, but every little movement has put us more in the center of things.

For instance:— With the new Pennsylvania Station, the Hudson Tubes, the new retail district of Fifth Avenue, the development of the hotel and amusement centers—

There we are in the midst of it all—at 34th St. and Broadway.

As the wholesale district moves to lower Fourth Ave. it only comes nearer our store at 13th St. and Broadway—just around the corner from the 14th St. Subway Express station.

The new Manhattan Terminal of the Brooklyn Bridge will simply add to the accessibility of our store at Warren St. and Broadway—already the handiest of places for the great downtown world.

Each store complete in itself. Everything men and boys wear.

LOTZE IS HELD.

Accusers Say His Alleged Embezzlements Will Total $28,000.

William G. Lotze, the former treasurer of the Canadian Coal Company, at 286 Fifth Avenue, who was arrested on a warrant on Monday night charged with embezzling $8,000 worth of the company's real estate bonds, was held in $10,000 bail for examination on Thursday by Magistrate McGuire in the West Side court yesterday.

Frederick P. Shaw of 149 Clermont Avenue, the president of the concern, was the one to secure the warrant against his treasurer. Lotze, who for ten years was general secretary of the Young Men's Christian Association of New Haven, superintendent of the First Methodist Sunday school and who established a real estate development concern known as the Colonial Investment Company, said that he could not understand how on earth Mr. Shaw figured that he had embezzled the bonds. He said that on March 10 when he resigned his position as treasurer of the coal concern he turned over all the company's property, then in his keeping and received a receipt signed by Shaw himself. Also, he said, the board of directors declared that his books were in very good order.

When Shaw's counsel asked Magistrate McGuire for an adjournment of the case C. W. Sennot, attorney for Lotze, begged on the stenographer's desk and shouted: "This, your Honor, is the most disgraceful outrage against justice he referred to his client's arrest 'that has ever been perpetrated. God help these people when they get through with them.' He shook his fist at Shaw and his counsel. Whereupon Shaw's counsel said that he hoped soon to show that Lotze had 'got away with' over $25,000 more.

Before going to New Haven Lotze was engaged in Y. M. C. A. work in Denver.

THIEVES FORGIVEN.

Sentence Suspended in Two Cases of Grand Larceny.

Richard Panchaz, who stole $6,100 from his employers, to spend, as he says, in charity and thereby obtain honors in his fraternal orders, came up for sentence yesterday in General Sessions. Judge Swann suspended sentence at the suggestion of Panchaz's former employers, Harris Bros. & Barnett of 516 Broadway.

Panchaz held high office in the Odd Fellows and for providing for medical attendance for sick orphans and some of it in being a good fellow among his friends in the fraternal orders who helped elect him to office.

Charles H. Schaefer, 20 years old, pleaded guilty in General Sessions yesterday to stealing $30 in cash and some jewelry from the safe of Lambert Snydman, a lawyer of 25 Pine Street. Mr. Snydman put in a request for leniency.

Judge Foster said that his investigation had shown that the defendant, in spite of the commendatory letters that had been sent him, was lazy and had betrayed a friendship when, after being allowed by Mr. Snydman to read law in his office, he spent his time in studying the combination to the safe and finally robbing it. Sentence suspended.

PROF. PERRIN ASKS DIVORCE.

Author Says Wife Deserted Him. She Says He Deserted Her.

Prof. Raymond S. Perrin, an author, appeared before Vice-Chancellor Howell in Newark yesterday seeking a divorce on the ground of desertion. In an answer filed by his wife, Mrs. Ada Zell Smith Perrin, who is now living with her parents in East Orange, she denies having deserted her husband and in a counter-charge she asks for a divorce on the same grounds set up by her husband.

Prof. Perrin is author of "The Religion of Philosophy," "Evolution of Knowledge" and other works and lives in a large house in Chatham. The couple were married in a New York church on January 16, 1907, and after a two weeks honeymoon the professor took his bride to his home, where he had lived with only a "Man Friday" to act as servant.

Mrs. Smith complained of the loneliness of the place from the start, it is said, and her husband said: "I picked it out for that very purpose."

The alleged desertion took place April 1, 1907.

This is a sale to bring Oriental Rugs within the reach of people who might not otherwise think of buying them. Strange as it may seem, there are thousands and thousands of people who do not really know what high-grade Oriental Rugs look like. When they see them—and when the price is not prohibitive—they buy. It is difficult to resist buying.

The grandeur of coloring in the perfect Oriental Rug has taxed the descriptive powers of the most graphic masters of language.

Even great painters have failed in attempting to reproduce the slumbrous fires and the subtle atmosphere of these masterpieces of the weaver's art. Almost diabolical is the ingenuity with which one delicate tint is made to merge harmoniously into another, producing a total scheme which transcends any mental conception, and before which one stands awed and exalted.

It is really indescribable. The Oriental "effect" in domestic rugs, so far from doing justice to the theme, "illustrates" its model as a street organ "represents" grand opera.

Of course, there are failures. The artistic Oriental mind sometimes lapses. It was as much to guard against ineffective or only partially effective designs being foisted upon us as to cut out the importer's usual profit that we decided to import our own rugs. So whatever happens to the failures—and, of course, they find their way into the retail market (usually for sale purposes)—they do not come to Macy's.

Every rug offered at reduced prices this week is from our regular stock.

An idea of the value (if it is possible to judge of them without seeing the Rugs) will be formed from the fact that in some cases the saving is as much as $300.00! It is people who understand Oriental Rugs best who will best appreciate these values.
